Angus wrote: "I have to admit that, when I set out for my walk on that September afternoon last year, I went solely to enjoy the Oxfordshire countryside and the exhilaration of a Saturday-afternoon walk. It was only as I approached the church at Shorthampton, and was overtaken by two cyclists speeding down the no through road, that I realised what they were doing and why! I caught them up at All Saints and the lady there asked if I was 'Riding-And-Striding'. I replied in the negative but said I would if she sponsored me. She agreed to - which was very generous of her; I could've been anyone out to make a quick ten quid or whatever I could get! - and I said I had come from and was returning to Charlbury where we have a 'weekend retreat' and where I knew there were five churches I could visit. I took a detour via Chadlington - where I picked up another sponsor, as I did at Charlbury Methodist Church - and visited the other churches in Charlbury before catching the train back to Surrey where I live permanently. There I managed to persuade my wife to give me some money. At our own church the following day the lady who organises the Ride And Stride for us asked me if I would sponsor her. I said I would if she would do likewise for me. She said that she knew I hadn't done anything as I would've had to've got a form from her so she agreed to sponsor me! I then told her I'd done it in Oxfordshire so she had to cough up with more money!"
